Functional Notes
- Provides administrators with an overview of key system activity including items, contracts, watch activity, and guild members.
- If a user is validated as an administrator, an option to access the admin dashboard appears in the user icon menu in the header. Selecting this option switches the interface from the standard user dashboard to the administrative view.
- Summary cards display key system information such as total items, items currently out of stock, active contracts, upcoming contracts, and the number of guild members.
- Administrators can monitor inventory availability through the Items card and track upcoming or active quests through the Contracts card.
- The Watch Activity card provides insight into how many items or contracts users are currently watching for availability updates.
- The Guild Members card displays the total number of registered users and the number of administrators in the system.
- Sidebar navigation allows administrators to access management sections including Manage Items, Manage Contracts, and Guild Members.
- Administrators can use these sections to create, edit, or update system data such as artifact stock levels or contract availability windows.
- Notification and user icons in the header provide access to system alerts and account options such as viewing the administrator profile or logging out.
